DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1-13, 15-19 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mikus et al.-5,830,179.

Mikus-'179 (Fig. 8) discloses a self-expanding stent made of Nitinol (shape memory alloy of Nickel and Titanium) structured as recited in the claims (please refer to the following reproduced Fig. 8).

Art Unit: 3734

Notice that the manner in which the stent is deployed or manufactured as recited in the claims are not given much patentability weight because the claims are claiming a device and not a method of using or manufacturing the device.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mikus et al-5,830,179.

As for claim 20, Mikus-'179 discloses substantially the claimed invention, except for a radiopaque material. However, a radiopaque material placed in a stent for monitoring the location of the stent is well known in the art. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide a radiopaque material to Mikus-'179 stent so that one can monitor the location of the Mikus-'179 stent in a patient body.

Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mikus et al.-5,830,179 in view of Shanley-6,562,065.

As to claim 14, Mikus-'179 discloses substantially the claimed invention, except for one hole to contain a therapeutic agent. However, it is well-known to provide a hole in a stent body to contain a therapeutic agent for treatment purpose. For example, Shanley-'065 (fig. 11) discloses stent 180 having hole 182 to contain drug 184 for a treatment purpose. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide Mikus-'179 stent holes to contain a therapeutic agent for treatment purpose.
